INSOLVENCY LAW

Members of Chambers have expertise in advising and representing insolvency practitioners, creditors and debtors at all stages of corporate and personal insolvency proceedings. Recent work includes advice, drafting and representation:

- At the start of and exit from insolvency proceedings (administration, liquidation and bankruptcy)
- In Companies Court applications (e.g. validation orders, restraining presentation of a winding up petition)
- In insolvency litigation claims such as wrongful trading, transactions at an undervalue and preference proceedings
- In respect of property rights within an insolvency context such as retention of title claims, claims by office holders to pensions and real property
- In respect of claims against directors
- In connection with claims relating to the conduct of office holders (including challenges relating to meetings to approve individual and company voluntary arrangements)
